HEPBURN PLANS TO ACT AS REFEREE IN TORONTO BABY RACE

Says Ontario Government Will Intervene to Prevent Extended Litigation Over $500,000 Prize—Another Entry Appears Eight Days Before End of Stork Marathon

TORONTO, Oct. 23 (P).—Another mother came out of obscurity tonight to enter the stork derby with the $500,000 prize. Just as Mrs. Annie Smith and Mrs. James Mel-drum came out of nowhere on successive days this week, so did Mrs. Clarence Kitts make her appearance tonight and put in her claim to the fortune left by Charles Vance Millar to the Toronto mother who bore the most children in the ten years after his death.

Only a few days from the end of the race, October 31, Mrs. Kitts announced that of her family of eleven children, eight were eligible. A new angle was thrust into the case tonight with lawyers casting doubt upon the legality of any agreement which might be drawn up by the contestants to share the prize. All, with the exception of Mrs. Matthew Kenny, self-styled leader with a claim of twelve, have indicated they would share the fortune should one of them win.

Eight days before the contesting mothers cross the finish line, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, of Ontario, announced today that his Government would supervise the finish of the race.

PROGRESS MADE WITH NEW PLAN

Loans for Home Improvement to Be Available Early Next Month

OTTAWA, Oct. 23 (P).—Canadian banks in the larger centres will be ready to start making loans under the Government's home improvement scheme the beginning of next month.

Arthur B. Purvis, chairman of the National Employment Commission, said today excellent progress was being made in the organization work. Application forms, instruction circulars to branch bank managers, and other necessary documents are now about ready and will shortly be in the hands of the banks across Canada.

SOME CONFUSION

There appeared to be some misapprehension about the date when lending under the home improvement plan would start, Mr. Purvis said. As stated in the original announcement, the intention is to begin active lending operations in the larger centres on November 2. It may be the banks will be in a position to go ahead also in the smaller towns and villages, depending on how quickly arrangements can be made.

OPERATING IN WINDSOR

"Some misunderstanding may have arisen owing to progress made in Windsor, Ont.," Mr. Purvis said. "There the work was so far advanced by active and enthusiastic community support that banks were making loans as soon as the home improvement plan was announced. Other cities and towns had, however, not been organized by local committees in advance. This organization work will be carried on as quickly as possible."

TROOPS ARE WITHDRAWN

Russia Announces Free Hand Policy in Future In Spanish Civil Strife

Italy Reported Planning to Withdraw From Non-Intervention Agreement—International Committee Holds Stormy Meeting at London—Soviet Delegate Retains Membership

Portugal Gives No Reason for Sudden Break With Neighbor

FOLLOWING are the highlights of developments yesterday in the European situation arising from the Spanish civil war and the non-intervention agreement:

The Portuguese Government broke off diplomatic relations with Madrid for reasons contained in a note handed to the Spanish ambassador by Foreign Minister Armindo Monteiro, and not made public. The Portuguese charge d'affaires in Madrid was ordered to sail at once from Alicante for Lisbon.

Russia told the international committee for neutrality in Spain she would act as she pleased toward the Spanish civil strife, but she retained her membership in the committee. Pending the outcome of further negotiations, the Russian Ambassador to London said, Russia is "not saying anything and not doing anything."

A neutrality sub-committee was to meet today, and the whole body was scheduled to hold its next session Wednesday.

ITALY MAY WITHDRAW

The Exchange Telegraph Agency reported from Rome that well-informed official sources said Italy would quit the "hands-off Spain" agreement.

In Moscow, official sources said Russia was not actually walking out of the neutrality group, but was demanding for itself the right to supply arms to the Lefist Spanish Government, because, Russia charged, Germany, Italy and Portugal have aided the Spanish Fascists. Those three nations denied Russia's allegation at the London session. Portugal also declined to permit a patrol of her ports by French and British warships, a measure suggested by Russia to enforce neutrality along the Portuguese coast.

ENVOY ORDERED HOME

LISBON, Oct. 23 (CP-Havas).—The Portuguese Government tonight broke off diplomatic relations with Madrid. Foreign Minister Armindo Monteiro notified the Spanish Ambassador here his Government had decided to suspend relations between the two countries and ordered the Portuguese charge d'affaires in Madrid to sail at once from Alicante for Lisbon.

SPECIAL GUARD OVER ARMORIES

Attack by Unemployed at Calgary Feared—Want Sleeping Place

CALGARY, Oct. 23 (P).—A special guard of six men, steel-helmeted and armed with rifles, was posted at the Calgary Armories today.

Military authorities declined to divulge the reason for the guard, but it was understood threats had been made by unemployed single men here to take possession of the Armories for sleeping purposes.

The guard, provided by the Lord Strathcona Horse Troop, was posted last night and was on duty again today. Additional men, it was reported, were held in readiness at the barracks.

There are 2,000 unemployed single men in Calgary, being fed and housed by the relief commission until farm placements can be made.

Italy and the Reich In Complete Accord On Europe's Affairs

Italian Backing is Pressing for Franco-German Pact Reported as Major Point in Agreement—Hitler's Ratification Alone Required

BERLIN, Oct. 23 (P).—The dictator nations, Italy and Germany, tonight presented a united front on Europe's problems. Complete accord between the two was announced by Galeazzo Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister and son-in-law of Premier Mussolini.

Italian agreement to back Germany in pressing for a Franco-German pact was reported by informed observers to be a major point in the accord which Ciano said was "neither a pact nor an alliance."

Discusses Outcome Of United States' Election Campaign

V. L. Denton Addresses Current Events Club at Y.W.C.A. on President Roosevelt's Chances In Forthcoming Ballot

"No dictator, not even Hitler, has the potentialities of power that Roosevelt has today. But I don't think President Franklin D. Roosevelt will use this power," declared V. L. Denton, principal of the Provincial Normal School, in the course of his thought-provoking address on "Will Roosevelt Be Elected?" given before the Current Events Club at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon.

The address, which was followed by a battery of questions, was in the terms of the chairman, Mrs. P. B. Scurrell, "a shrewd appraisal" of present-day political trends and conditions in the United States today, with particular reference to President Roosevelt himself. The speaker in his introduction made it clear that he was interpreting the American situation not without some first-hand knowledge of the people of that country, as he had lived there for some years.

PEOPLE OF IDEALS
"The people of the United States are a people of ideals," he stated. This ideal, dating from 1789, was to provide the best government and the most happy and contented people in the world. They were continually looking at Europe, particularly at those countries with oppressed classes, and holding the ideal of avoiding the development of that condition and having, in its place, a condition of greater individual and collective freedom. While this ideal might at times seem to be lost in more engrossing material problems, the ideal nevertheless survived.

The ideal had obtained in the Spanish-American War, which had for its objective the freeing of the Cuban people from Spanish oppression. Cuba continued to enjoy its independence, an object-lesson in fine altruism on the part of the States. The Philippine Islands furnished another instance of the same altruism and of the States' ideal to raise other peoples to the same degree of freedom and happiness enjoyed by themselves.

WILSON IDEALS
President Wilson was an idealist. It was as an idealist, a man who disapproved of war, that he tried to keep the United States out of the Great War, but the people of his gotten man, it is Roosevelt. From the standpoint of the ideal, it is Roosevelt. But it is possible for any single individual today completely to wipe out these conditions? Whether elected in the States by the Government or by the individual States, government relief for the unemployed, is here to stay," maintained the speaker.

Mr. Denton found fault with the Roosevelt administration for the destruction of foods, hogs, cotton, and other products carried out under the Agricultural Adjustment Act. This had hit many sections of the country adversely. Canada had acted more wisely in storing wheat during heavy crop years, while the United States was paying people to keep their wheat acreage down.

The straw vote carried out by the Literary Digest showed a fair balance between Roosevelt and Landon, elected by the States since 1912, died in the King's Daughters' Hospital here this morning, following a motor accident on Gibbins Road at Menzies Creek, a mile and a half out of Duncan, last night.

Mr. Paull was going home about 5 p.m., when apparently his car went out of control when approaching the cement bridge over the creek, plunging over the steep embankment on the wrong side of the road, the car coming to rest in the rocky bed of the stream.

Mr. Paull was born in England fifty-three years ago. He leaves a wife and one son, Adolphus, resident here.

OVER-BORROWING
In closing Mr. Denton discussed borrowing. The United States debt for social services and relief had increased from twenty billions in 1932 to thirty-six billions at the present time. Canada's debt was three billions.

"Most women don't like running into debt. Most men don't care whether they get into debt or not," he said, reminding his listeners that the late Mayor Marchant was one of the finest exponents of the city of Victoria had ever had in the "pay-as-you-go" policy. How far was a city justified in borrowing?

In reply to a question as to whether Mr. Roosevelt might not be satisfying personal ambition, Mr. Denton said that he was certain the President was sick of power, would be glad to get out of it, and was not seeking dictatorship. The history of most Presidents of the United States was that they were tired men by the time their terms of office came to an end.

"Roosevelt is just as white an American as anyone could possibly be," he added.

Mr. Paull was going home about 5 p.m., when apparently his car went out of control when approaching the cement bridge over the creek, plunging over the steep embankment on the wrong side of the road, the car coming to rest in the rocky bed of the stream.

EASTERN CANADA MORE OPTIMISTIC

R. W. Mayhew Reports Atlantic Coast Exports Up 10 and 12 Per Cent Business Increase

Business in Eastern Canada has increased by 10 to 12 per cent and optimism is in evidence everywhere, R. W. Mayhew, managing director of Sidney Roofing & Paper Company, Limited, reported yesterday on his return from a tour of Canada and the United States. He was accompanied by his son, Alan.

Eastern United States, too, is enjoying better times, Mr. Mayhew found. Mr. Mayhew and his son traveled east by train through Canada and motored home through the United States, where much road work was being done to encourage the movement of tourists.

With crops spotty through the prairies, the Victoria businessman found times were not as good as in the East. Social Credit did not seem to be making any real impression on Saskatchewan and Manitoba, these two provinces apparently being content to have Alberta prove its worth, he said.

"Personally, I think Alberta has a wildcat by the tail and cannot let go," Mr. Mayhew remarked.

Alan Mayhew will leave Victoria tomorrow to take a position in the Vancouver office of the Sidney Roofing & Paper Company.

TWO JUDGMENTS TO BE DELIVERED BY COURT OF APPEAL

There will be a sitting of the Court of Appeal on Tuesday in the Courtroom here, when two judgments will be handed down by their Lordships.

One of these is the judgment dealing with the administration of the estate of the late John Clayton, of Bella Coola. This case was tried before Mr. Justice Fisher, of the Supreme Court, and from his judgment an appeal was taken to the Court of Appeal.

The other case is that of Attorney-General of British Columbia vs. Royal Bank of Canada, which has to do with the question of what disposition is to be made of certain moneys lying in the bank to the credit of a company that had become inactive.

WORK TO START ON LARGE FAIR

Second Annual Tourist Trade Event to Open at Armories on Monday

Work will commence at the Armories this morning on fitting up thirty-eight modernistic booths for the Tourist Trade Development Association second annual Winter Fair, to be opened from Monday to Saturday. Two crews of workmen in ten and one-half-hour shifts will be employed.

Booths are patterned on advance plans for the 1937 San Francisco exposition, and will be decorated in shades of black and orange, and peach and gold. They will have illuminated signs against a background of concealed lighting. The Armories are to be illuminated with changing color effects, concealed lights, floodlights and hundreds of tiny globes, giving a fairy-like effect.

Tests have been conducted with a public address system from MacDonald's Electric, Limited, designed to overcome acoustic difficulties met with last year. The varied programme of entertainment on the stage will be clearly relayed to all parts of the large building.

HALLOWEEN AFFAIR
Plans are being prepared for a special Halloween programme on the last day of the fair. Prizes will be given for the most original costumes displayed in a parade across the stage. Black and gold decorations will add to the effect.

Photographs of babies entered for the baby show are on display in Fowler's Children's Shop at 734 Armitage Street. They were taken by Chert, official photographer to the fair.

Children leading in the ticket sale competition yesterday were Frank Leach, George Jay School; Geoffrey Neville, Tillicum School; Violet Stanley, St. Ann's Academy; Robert Johnston, Victoria West School; Walter Reid, Victoria High School; and Peggy Johnson.

Output Greater States Heinz Co. Executive Here

Expressing enthusiasm over the general business outlook E. James, Toronto, general sales manager of the H. J. Heinz Company, arrived at the Empress Hotel yesterday with Mrs. James. Twenty-three hundred persons are now employed at the company's Leamington plant, a record for the Canadian company.

The factory is the largest ketchup plant in the world and was considerably enlarged last year due to business expansion.

Empire trade is growing, according to Mr. James. The company shipped more Ontario tomato products than ever before. As England grows no field tomatoes, the demand has been exceptionally heavy, and the Empire export trade is better than any other part of the business.

ASSURANCE OF SUPPORT

International Association Is Behind Coast Longshoremen in Their Demands

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Association is supporting Pacific Coast longshoremen in their demands for wage increases and other concessions, word received here today from Joseph A. Ryan, International president at New York, stated.

Ryan denies rumors the International would not support the Coast I.L.A. should it refuse to settle with ship operators unless the operators grant demands of other maritime unions.

"Any such statements are absolutely false," Ryan declared. "Persons circulating such rumors on the waterfront are grinding their own axes."

The International is backing the Coast longshoremen in their programme. We have not receded from that stand."

PEACE ACTION PLANS FORMED

Special Committee Named To Act With League of Nations Society Group

To discuss plans for National Peace Action Week, November 8 to 14, a conference was held between the executive of Victoria Branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada and representatives of local organizations of the Y.W.C.A. last evening. Very Rev. Cecil S. Quinlan, Dean of Columbia, acted as chairman.

A. G. Smith, H. H. Smith, John Smith, C. S. Thomas, J. Gibson, Miss Marian Hoar, Mrs. E. A. Matheson, Mrs. A. C. Ross and John Cough were appointed a committee to work with the executive, and will meet at 1006 Government Street on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The executive will gather half an hour later.

It was decided to make every effort to induce Denison Massey, M.P., to address a public meeting here on November 9. Mr. Massey attended the Youth Conference at Geneva. Ralph Dent, who represented Victoria at the Ottawa Youth Conference, may also be invited to speak.

Matters discussed at the meeting included special services to stress peace in churches on November 8, Armistice Sunday; possibility of speakers addressing school children; organization of a public meeting during National Peace Action Week, and interviewing the district council of the Canadian Legion to see in what way the executive could assist in peace action work.

YOUTH COUNCIL LAUNCHED HERE

Temporary Executive Is Elected At Organization Meeting In Y.M.C.A.

The organization meeting of the Victoria Youth Council was called together by Ralph Dent in the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday night. Mr. Dent recently returned to Victoria from Geneva, where he was one of Canada's delegates at the 1936 World Youth Congress.

An organization committee was formed to establish a youth council in this city. A temporary executive was elected, as follows: Nigel Morgan, of the Young Canada, C.C.P. clubs, chairman; P. Hartnell, of the Young Citizens' League, as secretary; C. Thomas, of the Young Citizens' League, was elected treasurer, and Ralph Dent was elected general organizer.

The aim of the council is to act somewhat as a forum, where representatives from all the city's youth groups, political, religious, etc., may gather to discuss plans for the betterment of youth in particular and Canadian society in general. The council is planned after the style of youth councils throughout the Dominion and its aims and objects are expressed briefly in the Canadian Youth Act and the Bill of Rights of Canadian Youth, two documents passed at last Summer's Canadian Youth Congress, at which Mr. Dent represented the Y.M.C.A.

SAANICH HAS GREAT FUTURE

Prof. E. M. Straight, of Experimental Station, Says It Is Garden of Canada

Professor E. M. Straight, of the Experimental Station at Sidney, who is always welcomed by members of the board, was the speaker at yesterday's luncheon in Spencer's dining-room. Again the speaker brought home to the board the importance of doing all that could be done to get water for irrigation purposes onto the land of the Saanich peninsula. He did not pretend to be in a position to say how this should be done, but the possibilities of the peninsula, if water were available, were such that it would become the veritable garden of Canada.

Professor Straight was struck by the statement made to him by the secretary of the board, Hubert Leiby, of the need of a movement in the direction of "Help Yourself." There was much to be said for such a move.

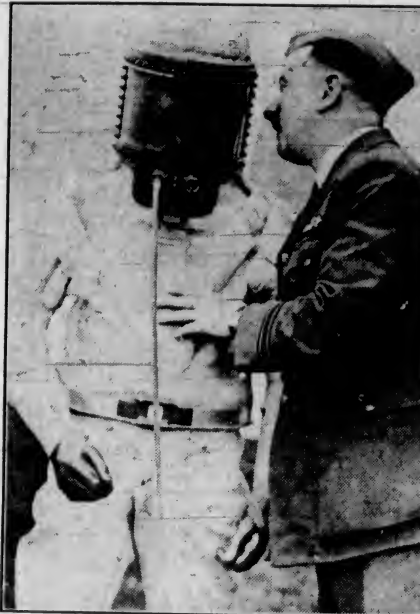

IMPORT PEARS

Dealing with the opportunities the speaker stated that the great Burbank had years ago after traveling over Saanich prophesied that the whole of the peninsula would be given over to pear raising. It was a shame in view of the opportunities in this respect that a factory at Sidney had to import pears for canning from Oregon.

MELON CULTURE

Last year as a result of the incentive he had been able to give the growers, Gordon Head farmers had supplied one-half of the muskmelon consumed here. He expected to see the total requirements given at home this year, for the very best of muskmelons and watermelons could be grown here.

Professor Straight, experienced with the raising of vegetable seeds, and there was no reason why the sugar beet seed for the supplying of the sugar factories at Chatham, Ont., and Raymond, Alta., should not be produced here.

He advocated the growing of peas for cattle food, instead of importing linseed meal from the United States. The stirring pea was a good one, but a smaller pea which yielded heavily. The Chancellor was his choice. He was experimenting at present with the Austrian Winter pea, which would yield 150 bushels to the acre and which, he felt, would displace vetches for food and for ploughing under.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

A number of questions were asked Professor Straight at the close of the address. On the subject of soyas beans, he said that the weather here was not hot enough to make the most prolific type of that bean succeed. He thought it would be better for farmers to stay with the pea for cattle food. The growing of grapes was attended with a good deal of risk, he found, and he thought that for wine purposes, more might be realized from the loganberry than the grape in this climate.

The speaker was thanked by the president, E. P. Burton, in his address and for the valuable co-operation he was always ready to give the board.

Kenya Planter Is Touring World to Discover New Home

On a tour of the British Commonwealth of Nations with a view to settling J. D. Lawson, plantation owner from Nairobi, Kenya Colony, and Mrs. Lawson, arrived in Victoria yesterday and registered at the Empress Hotel. From here they will go to the Antipodes, returning in several months to Canada.

For twenty years Mr. Lawson has been engaged in the cultivation in Kenya, of such hemp used in the manufacture of binder twine and ropes.

Asked how the colony had weathered the depression, Mr. Lawson admitted it had suffered along with other parts of the world, but the people were optimistic and they were sure that, just as the colony had followed the Old Colony into the depression, it would follow the United Kingdom to a new prosperity.

POOR FUTURE ENVISIONED

Little Ahead for Child of Today, Alberta Social Credit Member Declares

A life of misery or a life of drudgery are the only two things ahead for a child of today, Fred Anderson, M.P.P., told an audience in New Thought Hall Thursday evening. Mr. Anderson is a member for Calgary in the Alberta Legislature, and explained many angles of Social Credit. Percy E. George presided.

Before the advent of the Social Credit Government, half of Alberta's revenue went to pay interest on debt, the Province's credit was gone, farmers were in despair, 40 per cent of Albertans had lost, or were about to lose, their homes; 28 per cent of the population of Calgary furnished the entire city tax revenue, hardly showed any increase of 65 per cent, and there was no hope for youth, Mr. Anderson stated.

CREDIT CONTROL

Mr. Anderson declared the control of credit must be placed back in hands of the people, and wanted to know why credit could not be used in peace as in war. He said the discovery of interest had more effect upon the world than any other discovery. Because of the economic struggle for food, clothing and shelter, he believed talent was going to waste through lack of time for its development.

Of the sixty-three Social Credit candidates in the last Alberta provincial election, fifty-six secured seats. Mr. Anderson was far from being a dictator, and members were simply and solely to represent what the people wanted. He ventured to state a new Government in any Western province would find an empty treasury.

SCARED BY ACT

Before the election, Albertans were scared by the B.N.A. Act, but at the present time they were not the least bit alarmed. The majority of Albertans were not pressing for dividends, and he heard more talk about them in British Columbia than where he came from, Mr. Anderson said.

Mr. George announced the following were officers of Vancouver Island District of the Social Credit League: Major A. E. Jukes, chairman; J. W. Higham, secretary and J. C. Murray, organizer. Howard Hemphill was appointed official ward organizer, and Mrs. J. C. M. Keith, convenor of women's auxiliary. Ward chairmen named were: One, E. H. Unique; Two, Mr. George; Three, W. D. Todd; Four, A. S. Averill; Five, Col. C. B. Mevister; Six, C. Dale, and Seven, E. Knudvig.

Mrs. Hardy—Things have changed an awful lot in this locality, haven't they? That corner where we used to meet when court is now a wide road, with a traffic signal.

Mr. Hardy, with a sigh—Ay, ay, if only that red light had been there then.

INFLUENCE FELT

The influence of the larger nation of the United States, with its largely preponderant population, was felt in Canada. It was impossible that this should be otherwise, having regard to the differences in population. This was marked in the nation of the press and Canada gave, as a result, considerable space to American subjects.

With the gradual increase in population of Canada and to its greater importance from the American standpoint in many other ways, the situation was altering. With a $3,000,000,000 investment of American money in Canada, it was only to be expected that there would be corresponding action given by the American people to the United States.

Mr. Alexander dealt with some of the disputes which had arisen between the two countries, and which in the earlier days shortly after the attainment of independence by the United States threatened to create trouble. These were, however, amicably settled by the compromise method. This had continued through more recent years, and following the example that had been set by Great Britain, the two nations living alongside one another had settled their differences by compromise.

UNANIMOUS DECISIONS

In more recent years there had been established the Joint International Commission, in which two members from each of the two countries sat and adjudicated upon any matters that came up for settlement between Canada and the United States. In the twenty-seven years it had existed, all the decisions had been unanimous which spoke well for the fairness of the members.

The speaker was complimented and thanked by Frank I. Doherty, president of the Rotary Club, for his address.

Kenya Planter Is Touring World to Discover New Home

On a tour of the British Commonwealth of Nations with a view to settling J. D. Lawson, plantation owner from Nairobi, Kenya Colony, and Mrs. Lawson, arrived in Victoria yesterday and registered at the Empress Hotel. From here they will go to the Antipodes, returning in several months to Canada.

For twenty years Mr. Lawson has been engaged in the cultivation in Kenya, of such hemp used in the manufacture of binder twine and ropes.

Asked how the colony had weathered the depression, Mr. Lawson admitted it had suffered along with other parts of the world, but the people were optimistic and they were sure that, just as the colony had followed the Old Colony into the depression, it would follow the United Kingdom to a new prosperity.

UNDER ARREST FOR KIDNAPPING
Harboring Criminal and Passing Ransom Money Are Alleged
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23 (AP).—Justice Department agents, still trailing an unrecovered $40,000 from the $200,000 George Weyerhaeuser ransom, revealed today the arrest here of Edward P. Dainard, alleged pal of William Dainard, kidnapper of the young timber fortune teller.
The Justice Department said P. Dainard was seized late last night in a "fourth-rate hotel," apparently not far from where Dainard was captured last May 7.
It was said P. Dainard probably would face charges of harboring and passing of ransom money.
A week after the abduction, the kidnappers collected $200,000 from the boy's father, and little George was released unharmed near Issaquah, Wash.
A week later Mr. and Mrs. Harmon M. Waley were trapped with a portion of the ransom money in Salt Lake City and they led officers to a cache of more than $80,000 of the ransom money in an outlying canyon.
When arrested here, Dainard had about $20,000. It was said approximately $40,000 remained to be found.
The Waleys and Dainard were given long prison terms.

TO CONSIDER CITY'S APPEAL FOR HOOKUP WITH RADIO SYSTEM
Full consideration to Victoria's appeal for a hookup with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will be given when the board of governors meets on November 2, Mrs. Nellie McClung, Gordon Head, a board member, assured the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday by mail.
In answer to a communication sent by the Junior Chamber, Mrs. McClung replied: "We are not a properly constituted board until the act is declared on November 2, and cannot, therefore, make any statement of our policy. But when we meet on that date I assure you that the case of Victoria will be thoroughly considered."

STREET LIGHTS UNDER REVIEW

Ladysmith to Hold Special Council Meeting to Consider Improvements

LADYSMITH, Oct. 23.—Asserting that the entire street lighting system of the city required modernization and improvement, Alderman Joyce presented some interesting figures on the matter to the regular meeting of the council.
For the nine months ending September, over sixty new connections for homes and businesses had been made with the existing circuit. This condition together with the increasing use of electrical appliances in homes and business premises demanded a higher efficiency in the service.
The electrical committee, in a preliminary survey of the more immediate needs, had estimated a non-productive expenditure for poles, transformers and other material of nearly $2,000, while other items not directly affecting street lighting, would bring the total to $3,885. This expenditure could only be met by lessening costs in the bulk supply of electricity, and that did not prove feasible, an alternative cheaper source should be considered.
OLD PLANT CONSIDERED
The committee had investigated the possibility of restarting the power plant, closed down when the contract with the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities was made. Ladysmith had invested a total of $56,000 in the power plant, and was now worth considering what could be done with that investment before the contract with the utilities expired next June.
Mayor Walkem thought the power plant was a good idea, and Alderman Steele, endorsing the report, suggested the Holland Creek flow might be used with the Pelton wheel owned by the city, as an auxiliary power source for the street lighting system.
A special council meeting will consider the substance of the report, and the electrical committee was instructed to obtain further data on the matter.
The Vancouver Island section of the British Columbia Fire Chiefs' Association will hold its fall convention at Ladysmith on November 7, and a number of obligations in connection with the event by Fire Chief Gibson and R. Battle, the council authorized the firewards and the fire chief to proceed with arrangements necessary to make the occasion a success. This is the first time a fire chiefs' convention has been mooted for Ladysmith.
PLAYING GROUNDS
A joint meeting of the council and the school board will be held soon to consider the provision of adequate playing grounds and recreational areas for the public and high schools. Wood Park, Heywood Avenue football grounds in Beacon Hill Park and Spencers Park. Peanuts, firecrackers, apples and candy are to be provided for the children. Under the auspices of Y.M.C.A. leaders, interesting Halloween games are to be played. Special prizes will be offered for the most unusual costumes and the best home-made Jack-o'-lanterns.
Peanuts will be provided by the city, but subscription lists for apples have been opened with the parks superintendent and mayor's secretary. The committee hopes to be able to provide music in turn around the several bonfires.
Additional police will be on hand to supervise the fires. In addition to providing entertainment for children, it is hoped the scheme will eliminate annual Halloween property damage of some of the less thoughtful.

TO ENTERTAIN MANY CHILDREN

City Council to Be Hosts at Bonfires and Halloween Games in Parks

In order to provide good clean fun for young Victorians on October 31, Halloween, a jamboire will be sponsored by the City Council in several parks. Acting Mayor James Adam announced yesterday.
To discuss plans for the festivities, a conference was held by the acting mayor, School Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, and John Baxter, the mayor's secretary. They will meet representatives of the various parent-teacher organizations in the City Hall at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.
It is expected that bonfires will be lighted in Stevenson Memorial Park, Victoria, West Park, Hollywood Park, Heywood Avenue football grounds in Beacon Hill Park and Spencers Park. Peanuts, firecrackers, apples and candy are to be provided for the children. Under the auspices of Y.M.C.A. leaders, interesting Halloween games are to be played. Special prizes will be offered for the most unusual costumes and the best home-made Jack-o'-lanterns.

FORESEES NEW EUROPEAN WAR

French Visitor Says France And Switzerland Watching Germany With Distrust

Europe will experience another great war before long in the opinion of J. de Villate, retired major of the French army, who is visiting at the Dominion Hotel with his niece, Miss M. H. Toussaint. They are making a tour of Canada and United States before returning to their home in St. Remy.
France is better prepared for war than in 1914, Miss de Villate explained. "The country has by no means recovered from the scourge of the Great War and fear of another conflict has greatly held back ordinary progress. French armaments and armament plants, like those of England, are busy on extensive programmes."
NO REVOLUTION
Switzerland, too, looks on Germany with great distrust and has been busy building border fortifications, the visitor explained.
Asked about the Communist movement in France, Mr. de Villate said he did not think it would make much headway. He foresaw no revolution in the country and explained the recent labor troubles were confined to several large cities only. The Russian-French Treaty was not a popular one with the people, who had not forgotten they had lost 24,000,000 gold francs in pre-war loans to Russia, and still remembered Russia's questionable withdrawal from the Allied cause.

FORESEES NEW EUROPEAN WAR

French Visitor Says France And Switzerland Watching Germany With Distrust

Europe will experience another great war before long in the opinion of J. de Villate, retired major of the French army, who is visiting at the Dominion Hotel with his niece, Miss M. H. Toussaint. They are making a tour of Canada and United States before returning to their home in St. Remy.
France is better prepared for war than in 1914, Miss de Villate explained. "The country has by no means recovered from the scourge of the Great War and fear of another conflict has greatly held back ordinary progress. French armaments and armament plants, like those of England, are busy on extensive programmes."
NO REVOLUTION
Switzerland, too, looks on Germany with great distrust and has been busy building border fortifications, the visitor explained.
Asked about the Communist movement in France, Mr. de Villate said he did not think it would make much headway. He foresaw no revolution in the country and explained the recent labor troubles were confined to several large cities only. The Russian-French Treaty was not a popular one with the people, who had not forgotten they had lost 24,000,000 gold francs in pre-war loans to Russia, and still remembered Russia's questionable withdrawal from the Allied cause.

Mr. Sloan announced impending appointment of two commissions at Ottawa to investigate B.C. matters.

With the session due to open in three days' time, Mr. Sloan planned at once into preparation of legislation to be offered in the House. At Ottawa he argued several B.C. cases before the Supreme Court of Canada, including the George case. Two weeks after the House opens, he will leave for London, England, to argue marketing and other appeals there.

Saanich Masonic Dance Attended by Big Crowd

A crowd of nearly 300 dancers attended the sixteenth annual ball held last evening by the officers and members of Mount Newton Lodge, No. 89, A.E. & A.M., in the Agricultural Hall, Saanich.

The hall had been lavishly decorated with autumn flowers and foliage and an additional touch of brilliance and color was given by multi-colored lights and flags which had been draped on the walls. A five-piece orchestra was in attendance, playing all the new dance numbers and many of the old favorites which have been requested for many years at this annual ball.

In addition to the lodge members and their friends, there were many guests from Victoria and the surrounding districts, and all were full of praise of the committee's arrangements and efforts to make the ball a success.

Mr. Arthur Lock was chairman of the committee, other members assisting being Messrs. O. Maynard, W. H. Robertson and Wilfred Greene, who acted as master of ceremonies.

A sit-down supper was served at beautifully decorated tables, the ladies of Ruth Chapter, O.E.S., being in charge, and Mrs. F. Roberts as convener of the supper committee.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

SHIRLEY
The regular meeting of the Shirley Institute was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. E. Milligan, with a good attendance of members and two visitors present.

Mrs. M. A. Clark occupied the chair, owing to the unavoidable absence of both the president and vice-president. In answer to a letter of inquiry from the institute, a letter from the secretary of the Queen Alexandra Solarium was read, stating that wind breakers for the coats were most needed at the Solarium at present.

It was decided to get enough material to make four of them for the use of the little patients, and a "sewing bee" will be held shortly to make them up. The usual donation of jam will also be sent from the institute to the Solarium. The question of delegates to the conference, to be held in November, was left undecided for later arrangements. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. A. Clark. A vote of thanks was passed to the hostess who served tea.

Bridge and whist will be played and prizes will be given. A novel entertainment will take place during the intermission, including a programme by Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's dancing pupils, Miss Violet Okenken, who will be accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Okenken, and Mr. C. Plummer, pianist. There will be a contest and refreshments will be served. Anyone wishing to reserve a table may do so by telephoning Mrs. E. Day, Empire 3318.

LUCILLE BALL
HERES a new "gold standard" in formal fashions—a striking dinner gown displayed by Lucille Ball, attractive Southern California belle. The heavy black crepe of the ensemble is offset by gold brocade, creating one of the fall season's most attractive garments.

A golfer had lost his ball, and not unnaturally, was inclined to be annoyed with his caddy. "Why didn't you watch where it went?" he asked angrily. "Well, sir," said the boy, "it didn't usually go anywhere, and so I took me out to look for it."

TODAY'S RECIPE

JELLIED Veal—Breast of veal (12x17 in.), 1/2 pound fat bacon, 6 cloves, 1 bunch sweet herbs, 1/2 pound butter, 1 onion, 2 carrots, 1 clove garlic, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Method: Bone, trim and wipe the veal, remove one pound of the meat and pound, this in a mortar with bacon; season with powdered cloves and sweet herbs, pepper and salt to taste. Pass the mixture through a sieve. Cut the tongue into one-inch squares. Sprinkle veal with salt and pepper, lay the pounded veal and tongue on it, roll it up neatly and tie tightly with a cloth. Place in a stew kettle the trimmings, the calves foot, vegetables, and seasonings. Fill the kettle half full of cold water and bring slowly to a boil; when boiling add the meat roll. Let boil fifteen minutes, skim, reduce heat and cook for two and one-half hours or until meat is tender. Place the roll on a hot platter, when slightly cooled, take off the cloth and tie up with a fresh one. Press between two plates until cold. When ready to serve remove cloth. Glaze with cold jelly made from the boiled-down liquor.

This is a very old recipe—(De Both School).

Guide Wee's Closes With Health Day

One of the most prominent features of the Girl Guide activities is the outdoor training. Today is the outdoor and health day in the seven-day Guide programme just ending at the Canadian Girl Guide Week. This has been entered into by Guides all across Canada making it a great national effort of co-operation in Guide activities and service.

Canning hiking and nature study entered largely into the year's programme of every Guide company. This in turn, leads to good health for the Guides as they are taught that getting away from the four walls of the school or clubroom, and out into the fresh air and sunshine will have much to do with building up healthy bodies.

Woodcraft activities, such as tracking, stalking, signaling, fire-lighting, trail-making and nature lore open up a world of adventure to the girls, who go out accompanied by an adult leader who is keen on the outdoors and who is able to instill into the Guides a spirit of resourcefulness and pioneering.

SUPERVISED CAMPS
All the year Guides look forward to their Summer outing at camp. Guide camps are run under careful supervision, at each camp and each camp director must comply with camping regulations and standards laid down by the Canadian Council. The exercise the regular hours for rest and sleep, well-planned and well-cooked meals as well as clear-cut teaching of healthy habits will do much to make for a healthier generation.

Sports events and organized sports days are looked forward to by many companies and districts of Guides. Some girls have received an incentive in this way to go on and make physical training their life work, while Guides are proud of the fact that several members of the Canadian Olympic team at some time have been active members of the movement.

The Victoria Guides annual divisional swimming competition has done much to raise the standard of swimming among the Guides and Brownies, and has given several of the local companies their first start, chief among them being Monica Trump, who belonged to the Gonzales Company.

For this day the North and West Districts are holding special hikes, when lunch and supper will be cooked without any utensils. The East District is holding a unique display of camp and hike cooking in the grounds of the old Oak Bay High School on Oak Bay Avenue. The East Rangers will cook a full and wholesome meal using no utensils at all while the Okenkinds (Gonzales) of Mrs. and Paul Bay Companies will compete in cooking a camp dinner. Visitors will be welcomed.

RUSSIA ANNOUNCES

FREE HAND POLICY

BRINGS TENSION TO HEAD
The break in diplomatic relations brings to a head increasing tension between Portugal, on the one hand, and Spain and Russia on the other. Both Spain and the Soviet Union have repeatedly charged Portugal with the "port of entry" for arms supplied the Spanish insurgents by Italy and Germany.

At a meeting of the non-intervention committee in London, the Russian representative proposed the French or British Navy undertake to patrol the Portuguese coast to enforce the hands-off-Spain agreement. This Portugal refused to countenance.

Russia has continually charged Portugal with violations of the pact, its latest communication charging Portugal stands as "the main base of supply for the rebels." To these charges the Portuguese representative replied heatedly. At one meeting he angrily stalked out of the Lorne room of the Foreign Office, where the committee meeting was being held.

ADJOURNS STORMY SESSION

LONDON, Oct. 23 (A.P.).—The Spanish non-intervention committee adjourned a stormy session tonight with Russia still technically a member despite a Moscow declaration to pursue any course it saw fit in the Spanish civil war.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome said well-informed official sources declared "Dino Grandi" (the Italian Ambassador to London) undoubtedly will receive instructions Saturday to hand in Italy's resignation from the non-intervention committee.

Russian delegates, non-committal on their country's future policy, said, however, Italian, German and Portuguese counter-charges of non-intervention violations had not been discussed at today's meeting.

A sub-committee of thirteen nations, including Russia, was called to meet Saturday, with a full committee session summoned for next Wednesday.

Saturday's meeting, it was reliably reported, was called in an effort to formulate new "supervisory powers" to halt alleged aid to both Spanish belligerents.

ALL SEE LOOHPHOLES
In the charges and counter-charges of Russia, Germany, Italy and Portugal the one consistency has been allegations of loopholes.

The Portuguese delegate, Francisco Caldeira, alone expressed irritation after today's session which lasted for five hours. He was contemptuous over the Russian declaration, which he termed "just a bluff as always."

British informed sources expressed belief the Soviet communication was "plain hedging."

Informed observers felt the most hopeful sign for the non-intervention pact was the fact Russia had not actually walked out of the committee session.

Her inclusion of the sub-committee, to meet Saturday gives Russia another chance to renew violation charges against Germany, Italy and Portugal.

CLAIMS FREE HAND

MOSCOW, Oct. 23 (A.P.).—Russia today claimed a free hand toward the Spanish civil war in a note delivered to the international non-intervention committee in London.

The Soviet Ambassador in London, Ivan Maisky, communicated to the committee that Russia "cannot consider itself bound by the agreement for non-intervention to any greater extent than any of the remaining participants in the agreement," but gave no indication the country actually will ship munitions to Spain.

Official sources said Russia is not actually backing the agreement, but rather claimed for itself the same right to supply arms to Spain as

Will Live in Port Alberni

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM RALPH MILLS

they say, is enjoyed by Germany, Italy and Portugal.

SYSTEMATIC VIOLATION
Maisky, charging the agreement was being "systematically violated by several participants," said it had become "converted into a simple, turn-up scrap of paper."

"It ceased to exist in fact," he said in his communication, which was delivered to the Earl of Plymouth, chairman of the non-intervention committee.

The document contained a bitter denunciation of alleged violations by Fascist countries of the "hands-off-Spain" accord and indirect criticism of the committee for non-support of Russia's suggestions to it.

all that was required to make it effective.

VIEWED AS INTRIGUE
French officials viewed the proposed Franco-German understanding as an intrigue to break up the Franco-Russian Military Assistance Pact. If the Franco-Russian pact could be disrupted, these observers said, Germany would have removed a major barrier to attacking Russia.

A projected accord between Germany, Italy, France and Great Britain was mentioned in the agreement, observers said. Other points reportedly included were: Commercial concessions to Germany in Ethiopia, a united campaign against Bolshevism, refusal to recognize any radical government in Spain if and when the insurgents capture Madrid.

Ciano and Von Neurath left Berlin tonight for Berchtesgaden. Conversations between Ciano and Hitler, it was said, were not likely to be intimate as those were between Ciano and Von Neurath.

POMP AND CEREMONY
The Italian Foreign Minister will be a luncheon guest of Hitler on Saturday, and his visit will be surrounded with pomp and ceremony designed to emphasize it as a climax to the five-day demonstration of Italian-German friendship.

This friendship will be ripened later in German universities. It is planned, where Italy will be featured among the foreign language curricula.

TRAVELER STRIPS ISLES OF CHARM

Minister-Soldier-Teacher Tires of Roving World and New Desires To Climb Mountains

Not the paradise they are often pictured to be, the South Sea Islands are "60 per cent humidity 30 per cent mosquitoes and 10 per cent air," according to Rev. Charles E. S. Bull, Anglican minister-soldier-teacher from Capetown, South Africa, who is visiting at the Dominion Hotel during a world tour.

In New Zealand, Mr. Bull watched with interest the innovations in administration by the Socialistic Government. While admitting the country seemed to be enjoying prosperous times, he thought the new political systems had yet to meet a real test.

For the traveler a brief view of the South Sea Islands' beauty was sufficient, and he felt no desire to make his home there.

He is tired of scenery and rapid transit, and longs to climb high peaks in the Rockies. He plans to spend Christmas in England, and return home in January. Which of his three professions he will follow when he returns to South Africa, Mr. Bull does not know at present.

Strangely, no attempt was made by the attacking aviators to bomb the city. Observers thought their raids tonight might have been viewed by the insurgents merely as preliminary visits, and that the bombing would come later when the infantry advance had penetrated closer to the capital.

DID LITTLE DAMAGE
Several light bombs plopped near Cuatro Vientos Airport on the outskirts of Madrid, but did no appreciable damage. Government planes housed in the hangars did not take to the air against the invaders.

The front line Government fighters tonight slept in crude trenches—"ditches" the insurgents called them—only ten miles from Madrid.

The warred militia was backed up by a polyglot civilian army roughly estimated at 100,000, recruited by women from factories and offices in Madrid during the past three days.

WAIT FOR ARTILLERY
The insurgent advance which has swept forward ten miles within the past week, was slowed up to await field artillery wheeling along the roads behind them. Most of the field pieces were of sufficient power to hurl shells into Madrid from the insurgent advance posts.

COMPENSATION TO BE SUBSTANTIAL
Former Chairman of C.N.R. Trustees to Retire With Allowance of $30,000

OTTAWA, Oct. 23 (C.P.).—C. P. Fullerton, former chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Canadian National Railways will receive $30,000, one year's salary, as a retiring allowance. An order-in-council has been passed by the Cabinet approving the payment.

Mr. Fullerton was appointed for a term of seven years, but legislation altering the railway set-up resulted in the abolition of his position before this term expired.

It has also been learned the Government has decided to retain Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, in an advisory capacity to the newly created Canadian Radio Broadcasting Verdigris green wool suit, with distinctive, marked baronduki revers, brown felt hat, brown kidskin tongue Oxfords.

SHORT skirts and high hats are the order of the day. Your skirt may be very short and flared if you are young and slim, or pencil slim, with slits at the side for ease in walking. Or the flare or the straight, slimmest may both be modified if you have passed that very slender stage.

If you can't wear a hat that has a tall crown, at least you can add a tall bit of trimming to give that "high hat" look. Some of the peppy bows, and especially "quills," that trim feminine headgear, will undoubtedly cause some discomfort and possibly tears to a corolla who are just the right height to get them in their eyes. One must suffer somewhat if the girl friend is to be right in fashion, and so an object of your admiration and pride.

Take the suit at the left. The quaint coat-tails worn by the men of the Directoire period suggested the interesting black treatment given the costume suit. Verdigris green wool is crisply handled in the slim dress which is tricked out with patch pockets and a box-trimmed collar. The jacket is well fitted with revers of distinctively marked baronduki.

GRape-purple ribbed crepe dress piped with Burgundy red suede. Burgundy antelope cap. Burgundy kidskin pumps.

Stitched black kidskin sandals are distinguished for their simplicity and formal air. The tiny black felt hat bursts skyward with its towering blue feather. A brooch clasps the neck of the dress.

GRape shades chic.
Vintage shades give richness and interest to the Autumn mode. GRape-purple-ribbed crepe makes the frock at the right, spiced by Burgundy red suede piping and suede belt. A clever bend conceals the fact that the dress buttons conveniently down the front, while the broad shoulders and flare-front skirt are further points of distinction.

Burgundy antelope makes the French revolutionary cap, and the smart round-toed Regent pumps are of Burgundy kidskin.

An interesting little style whimsy is that strings of golden beads are being worn with women frocks. Page those mother wore a couple of decades back!

CORONATION INFLUENCE
Schiaparelli's "crown" hat, influenced, doubtless, by the coming British coronation, is shown here in fine brown felt and blue-tangue Oxfords are of brown kidskin. The pull-on gloves are, of course, brown. Talk about going high hat! Look at the feather trimming of the smart little chapeau on the lady in the centre of our picture. Moulded contours and swinging skirts were triumphs of the recent Paris open-

What Today Means

"SCORPIO" If October 24 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:10 a.m. to 12:10 p.m.; from 3:10 to 5:10 p.m. and from 9:10 to 11:10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:10 to 10:10 a.m. from 5:10 to 7:10 p.m. and from 9:10 to 11:10 p.m.

Probably one of the most debatable questions this day will be what constitutes right and wrong. Be careful how you express your self on this subject, for the wrong interpretation might create a very unfavorable opinion, with far-reaching reactions. Personal characters may be surprisingly revealed this day through some simple action or word. Every variety of selling requires edition in the method used in gaining the prospective buyer's interest. Any exhibition of indifference or high pressure is apt to arouse the customer's ire. In social circles envy and jealousy are likely to have a disturbing influence, so it will be good judgment to give no cause for either. Married and engaged couples, as well as those hoping shortly to be able to announce their engagement, must not say, do or write anything that seems harsh, for feelings will be easily wounded this day and not so easily healed. If a woman and October 24 is your birthday, you perhaps are inclined to be capricious, especially in the way of friendships and the bewitching of your affection. You may have allowed yourself to get into the habit of changing your mind too quickly, without attempting to analyze the reason for the transition of your mood. Read literature that will animate as well as stimulate your imagination. Broaden your scope of knowledge, if you would make a success of your life. You must learn the true meaning of the word consistency, and use it as the foundation for your motives and acts. As a demonstrator, lecturer, orator, or estate broker, sales agent, author or office executive your results ought to be gratifying if you work consistently. Your matrimonial future appears to be full of sunshine. The child born on October 24, if spoilt in its infancy, will be difficult to manage in its teens. The responsibility of this youngster's future rests upon its parents using common sense in its rearing. Children born on this date are, as a rule, quick-witted, witty, of good and popular with their playmates. If a man and October 24 is your natal day, you must never permit yourself to get into a rut. Never become satisfied with your progress in your work, but let ambition spur you on to greater efforts. Law, engineering, the army or navy, journalism, the field of art or sculpture may offer the best chances for a brilliant career.

Important Tussles Are Carded Today Across the Border

Great Minnesota Machine Will Tackle Purdue While Notre Dame Clashes With Pittsburgh Panthers

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—With the pressure turned on or off, according to the angle from which this Saturday's football festivities are viewed, there's an ideal set-up for upsets from coast to coast.

Here are the principal spots where anything may happen:

Notre Dame at Pittsburgh.—The Panthers, knocked off last week by Duquesne, hope to spring a form reversal at Notre Dame's expense.

St. Mary's at Fordham.—Travel is beneficial to the mental attitude, opines Edward ("Slip") Madigan, coach of St. Mary's cross-country caravan. On the theory it has eased the shock of a scoreless last Sunday with San Francisco, the Gaels figure to break down Fordham's acknowledged line defense.

Purdue at Minnesota.—Gathering momentum since the tragic pre-season death of two stars, Purdue's Boilermakers take this week's crack at the nation's most prominent array of gridiron talent. Minnesota, the No. 1 team until proved otherwise, is the choice.

Duke at Tennessee.—Anyone who has seen them in action on their own grounds knows how tough Bob Neyland's volunteers are to beat.

Southern California at Stanford.—Going nowhere in particular, Stanford is in a fine spot to shoot the works against a comparatively green team.

Navy at Princeton.—Unless each team is still dazed trying to figure out how they took a trimming last week the Middles and Tigers should put on one of the East's best exhibits.

Washington's claims to Pacific Coast leadership will be tested by California before close to 35,000 onlookers at Seattle. The Huskies, who hope to hear the call to the Rose Bowl later on, should hurdle the Golden Bears.

ANGLERS MAKE FEW CATCHES

Only a Small Number Manage to Catch Cohoes at Cowichan Bay

Cohoes refused to be lured by the enticing bucktail flies which anglers used, as Cowichan Bay teemed over with fish during the week. These were the conditions that many of the fishermen encountered during the day. Catches were scarce.

Only a few persons managed to hook about a half a dozen cohoes, and some never even got a strike. Anglers could see the cohoes swimming around their boats and were irritated at the thought of seeing them and being unable to catch them.

W. E. Boeing, a millionaire sportsman from Seattle, landed nineteen fine specimens, it was reported yesterday. Those persons hooking fish include: Mrs. Lowe, Seattle; eight; Ted Pitt, fishing with Bill Waters, Vancouver, nine; W. B. Christopher, Roger Monteith and Cray Allen, seven between them.

REGINA WILL TACKLE GRID TITLEHOLDERS

Roughriders to Clash With Winnipeg in Today's Important Fixture

WINNIPEG, Oct. 23.—Confident they can continue their attack where they left off last week-end, Regina Roughriders are developing aerial plays in preparation for Winnipeg's invasion of the Saskatchewan capital tomorrow in the first game of the Western Rugby play-off.

The Dominion champions finished the Western Conference schedule, although losing 9-7 to Regina here last Saturday, with a two-point margin over Riders and they took this margin into the total-point series at Regina this week-end and Winnipeg next.

The Alberta title is at stake at Calgary tomorrow when Calgary Bronks meet the undefeated University of Alberta team. The winner will advance to the Western final with British Columbia survivors. A. W. Matthews, Alberta Rugby Union official, announced last night Bronks had forfeited their right to a bye into the provincial final by playing their first team in a union fixture.

TACKLES VARSITY

In the Vancouver Big Four, Meralomas will tackle University of British Columbia, which has yet to win a game this season.

Ralph Pierce, flashy back-fielder, will return to Regina line-up Saturday. He has recovered from a shoulder injury, but Louis Chumich, giant lineman, will be kept on the bench with an injured knee until the game in Winnipeg October 31.

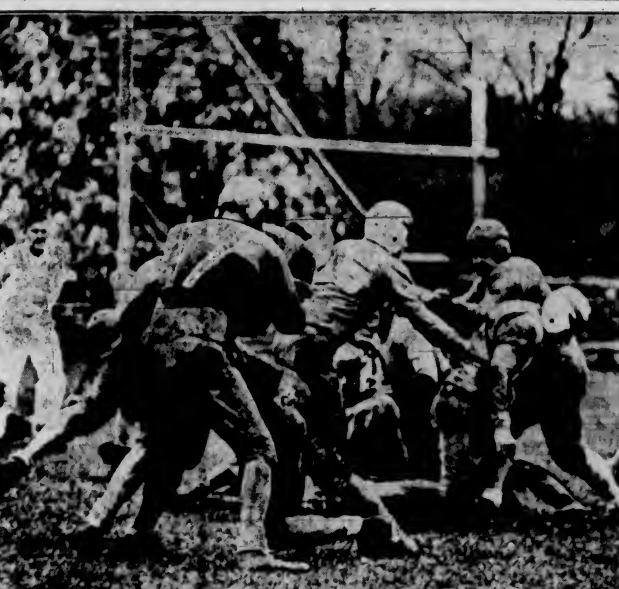

Fritz Hanson, elusive "peg" half-back, will not accompany the team to Regina, but all other players are in shape and Fritz hopes to have Hanson back in harness for the second Regina game.

Americans Beat Australians in Hockey Fixture

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—A revamped United States team, displaying co-ordination in its attack after a feeble start, surged ahead to a 5-4 conquest of Australia today in the world triennial field hockey tournament. It marked the second straight victory for the Yankees.

The championship England team, held scoreless for ten minutes, broke loose with a scoring spree thereafter and swamped Wales, 8-0. Ireland registered an unimpressive 4-0 victory over the Belgians, comprised of substitute players.

Varsity Halts Queens Near the Line

University of Toronto Beavers soundly trounced the tri-color of the Queens, 14-2, in the first 1936 meeting of the bitter college rivalry, and moments were few and far between when the tri-color threatened in the shadow of Varsity's goal-posts. This play was one of those moments. With Queens fighting for a major score on Varsity's ten-yard line in the fourth quarter, the Blues stiffened and tossed back the plunging college champions. A stonewall defence is seen smashing up the tri-color bucking formation.

Lawson Little Explains Advantages of Stances

Open Stance Restricts Body Turn and Aids Control While Closed Stance Used for Power, States Former King of Amateur Ranks

One of the fundamentals in any good golfing method is the stance—that is, the position of the golfer's feet with respect to the ball, and to the line of flight. The stance, like the game itself, has gone through an evolutionary period and has been considerably altered in the last thirty years. Old pictures in the golfing books indicate clearly that the golf authorities of those days favored, or at least tolerated, the restricted body-turn, the open stance, with the left foot well drawn back, as regards to the line of flight.

Now during this period, which we assume to have come in with the lively, or rubber-core, ball, the fashion changed, varying from the distinctly closed stance—the position with the right foot drawn back of the left, in relation to the line of flight—to the square stance—in which both feet are equidistant from the line. There were many players, however, who preferred the open stance. The ball had 30 per cent more range in it than the unreluctant old gutta-percha projectile, and control became a more paramount issue than slugging for range.

RECORD FOR ACCURACY
To illustrate to what extent control could be acquired through the medium of the open stance and the restricted body-turn, it may be recalled that Harry Vardon in his early prime once played through a year and a half of constant golf, without ever being off the fairway with a wood club drive. This was told me by O. B. Keeler, a veteran golf writer, who had questioned Vardon about it and had obtained confirmation of the story.

In the open-stance period, nearly every shot was played with the left-to-right spine, a trace of fade, especially in the iron shots. Fine control was the result, as exemplified in the beautiful iron play Harry Vardon, and the exquisite pitching of J. H. Taylor, in the days when the "great triumvirate" of British golf—Vardon and Taylor and James Braid—accounted for sixteen British open championships in a span of twenty years.

Golf courses in those days were not watered, and the cut shot to the green was a prime essential of successful play. Then came the modern era, with small, well-trapped and well-watered greens; and increased yardage, up to 6,800 and 6,800 and even 7,000 yards for the big teats. The demand for more range sent the style back again into the power-shots and the square or even the closed stance, though the full St. Andrews swing, as it is called, employed against the hard and unresponsive old gutty ball, never since has been in vogue.

EASES BODY TURN

Let me repeat, the closed stance, with the right foot back of the left as regards the line of flight, is essentially a power-stance, affording and encouraging freedom of the body in the back-swing—permitting and encouraging a great "wind-up," after the fashion, one might suggest, of a steel spring. It also makes easier the mode of "hitting from the inside," as the saying is—a method which at the same time contributes power to the shot, a grip of the club's face on the ball at impact, and the very useful right-to-left spin on the big shots, which goes with the true power-shot.

In recent years we have heard much about "hitting against the left side"—concerning which nothing, so far as I have been able to learn, was offered in the days when the triumvirate topped the world in golf. In those days, with the open stance made popular by the great Vardon, the body-action was automatically restricted, and the club was swung with an emphasis on hand-and-arm action.

And now the cycle again has revolved. We have the 7,000-yard golf course in our midst; and the demand again is for range; and now comes the trend again to the closed stance and the powerhouse swing. It is noted also that the position of the feet is in the direction of freedom and power in the stroke—the toes point slightly outward, the opposite to pigeon-toe, freeing the thighs for both the backward and downward swings.

CARRIES OFF BEATTY CUP AT ANNUAL GALA FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Local High School Amasses Most Points in Swimming Meet at Crystal Garden—South Park Captures Britannia Branch Relay Trophy—Pendray Cup Goes to the Willows

Swimming stars of tomorrow—budding young masters from the schools of Greater Victoria—splashed their way to victory yesterday evening at the Crystal Garden during the twelfth annual school children's swimming gala.

More than 200 young swimmers, the largest number to ever compete in this increasingly popular event, vied for honors in the many races on the lengthy and attractive programme. Close finishes were the order of the evening as the competitors, cheered on to victory by the spectator-students from the respective schools, made determined bids to finish on top.

Boy and girl aquatic stars from the Victoria High School carried off the handsome Sir Edward Beatty Cup for aggregate honors. Capt. R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, made the presentation.

PRESENTS CUP

The Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion Cup for school relay squads was captured by the South Park team. W. G. Stone, popular figure in ex-servicemen's organizations and young representative of the Canadian Legion, handed the trophy to the captain of the winning quartette.

Young swimmers from the Willows School annexed the Pendray Cup and miniatures. Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy minister of education, presented the trophy to Capt. P. F. Dexter, supervising principal of the Oak Bay schools.

Dr. S. J. Willis presented the prizes during the unavoidable absence of Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, introduced to the large gathering by G. I. Warren, president of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club. Dr. Willis congratulated the competitors on their fine performance, and the officials of the club on the success of the gala.

Approximately 700 persons, the greater number of them proud parents of the young swimmers, witnessed the programme. Hundreds of non-competing students were also on hand and their cheers were at times deafening.

Staged by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, the meet was one of the most successful since the inception of this popular gala eleven years ago.

OSHAWA, Ont., Oct. 23.—Announcement by Manager "Red" Dutton only two amateur players, trying out with the New York Americans here, will be retained for further observation, and the arrival of Martin Shewer, business manager for Bill Dwyer, headlined developments in the Amers camp here today.

Shewer said he had not yet signed any players to hockey contracts with the club for the coming National Hockey League season, but expected to talk business with the players tomorrow.

"The league now has the franchise, but we still have the players and the club," he said. "The players are training here and will be ready to go when the season opens."

STILL DOUBTFUL
"Who they will play for we don't know yet, because officially we are not in the league, but we are fighting the training expense and hope to have the problem cleaned up within a couple of days," he concluded.

Manager Dutton was a busy man today as he pruned the squad of amateurs having tryouts. Only two players, Ad Cronde, of Trail, B.C., a centre man, and Pete Leawick, a right winger from Saskatoon, were retained.

The players who left for home tonight included Bill Burnett, defenceman from Kimberley, B.C.

CANADIENS TO DEPEND UPON VETERAN FORWARD

Experienced Trio Will Perform for Flying Frenchmen

Howie Morenz, Aurel Joliat and Johnny Gagnon Reunited Again and Are Expected to Flash Old-Time Form During Season—Clem Loughlin Has Some Good Rookies in Camp

MONTREAL, Oct. 23 (U.P.)—If spirit means anything at this early date, Montreal Canadiens have an option on the Stanley Cup that couldn't be pried loose with a pinch bar.

That's because the old guard is reunited. They brought new atmosphere to the Canadiens' habit, these oldsters. And if their confidence is to be taken seriously, it would seem Les Canadiens are going to be a "just for fun" affair.

Howie Morenz is back for his fourteenth campaign. He claimed a "new lease of life" at rejoining the Canadiens as he centered at practice today on the flying Frenchmen forward line, flanked by Aurel Joliat and Johnny Gagnon.

HOWIE MORENZ

It might have been the old Stanley Cuppers of 1930 and '31 that swept up and down the forum, though shy of some speed burned up in the four campaigns since the master, Cecil Hart, was last at the helm.

Now, along with Morenz, Joliat and Gagnon, it's that "new lease of life" Howie mentioned now and again as he went happily about his business of being a Canadian after two seasons as a manager back, we should go to places. "Hart knows us and we know him. Then, too, Joliat, Gagnon and I know each other's plays."

RANGERS HAVE YOUNGSTERS WINNIPEG, Oct. 23 (U.P.)—In three weeks' time the young men of Manhattan will swim into New York to assert themselves as Rangers of the National Hockey League, but before then the youngest complete sextet in the league's history will have seen action against Detroit Red Wings, world champions. The teams tangled November 8 at Detroit in their opening game of the league.

Should Lester Patrick, coach and manager of Metropolitan Blue-hirts, decide—and it is highly probable he will—the youngsters will be on the ice for the face-off starting Rangers in 1936-37 warfare.

Patrick has only one worry. "I might be infringing on child labor laws," he said, as he glanced over the line-up. There is Mac Colville, twenty, at center, flanked by his brother, Neil, and Alec Shubicki, both twenty-two. On defense are Joe Cooper and Babe Pratt, twenty-one and twenty, respectively, with Dave Kerr, twenty-six, in goal. They average twenty-two years.

MOVE UP QUICKLY The first four of these moved successfully from Canadian amateur ranks to the Eastern United States Amateur League; then to Philadelphia Ramblers, Rangers' farm team in the International American League; and now to the upper rung.

Since Patrick arrived at his Winnipeg training quarters he has chopped sixty years from his players' age aggregate. The total for fourteen regulars is 356 years, Rangers' new average per player is 25.4.

But two veterans, Ching Johnson and Bill Cook, Ranger originals ten years ago, are not included. They are not considered regular players. Ages of other players are Phil Watson, twenty-three; Lynn Patrick, twenty-four; Art Coulter, twenty-six; Ott Heller, twenty-nine; Cecil Dillon, twenty-eight; Butch Keeling, thirty-one; Murray Murdoch, thirty-two, and Frankie Boucher, thirty-four.

Rangers and Ramblers engage in exhibition games here October 30, November 1, and possibly November 3, then the National Hockey League team may visit Chicago. The Hawks' camp at Hibbing, Minn., for a game before turning toward Detroit.

ROOKIES SHOW FORM HIBBING, Minn., Oct. 23 (U.P.)—Manager Clem Loughlin and Coach Perk Galbraith centered attention on three Chicago Black Hawks rookies in today's workout at Memorial Stadium here as the National Hockey League continued training. The three were Red Sutherland, and Harold Jackson, defense players, and Mike McMahon, center. All three were used on defense.

Loughlin stated his reason for trying McMahon on the rear guard was the Brockville, Ont., amateur was ideally equipped both mentally and physically for the position. A bit strange to the department of defense known as hockey, McMahon a couple of times collided with two of the Minnesota amateurs practicing here with the Hawks, and the impacts sent both from the ice for repairs.

Harold Jackson, the nineteen-year-old Toronto amateur, has made a great impression on Loughlin. As a speedster, the cyclonic Muth March is about the only Chicago player who can outskate him. His stickhandling has improved lot under Galbraith's tutoring, and on two occasions he won prizes donated by Ross Loughlin for accuracy in shooting.

Sutherland, only seasoned professional of the trio, who came to Hawks from the Portland, Ore., team with a reputation as the "bad man" of the Northwestern League, did not assert much of his aggressive spirit that made him one of the most sought-after players in minor league ranks last season.

Sutherland weighs only 155 pounds, hardly enough in the opinion of Loughlin to withstand the rigors of a National League season.

Hooley Smith Is Given Release by Montreal Maroons

MONTREAL, Oct. 23 (U.P.)—Hooley Smith, center for Montreal Maroons last year, was given his outright release by the National Hockey League outfit today.

Thus Hooley, a graduate from Toronto Granites in the amateur ranks, after nine seasons with Maroons, is at liberty to dicker with any team in the circuit and the last vestige of the Montreal triple line—Nels Stewart, Babe Siebert and Smith—was removed from Maroons.

Loughlin stated his reason for trying McMahon on the rear guard was the Brockville, Ont., amateur was ideally equipped both mentally and physically for the position. A bit strange to the department of defense known as hockey, McMahon a couple of times collided with two of the Minnesota amateurs practicing here with the Hawks, and the impacts sent both from the ice for repairs.

Harold Jackson, the nineteen-year-old Toronto amateur, has made a great impression on Loughlin. As a speedster, the cyclonic Muth March is about the only Chicago player who can outskate him. His stickhandling has improved lot under Galbraith's tutoring, and on two occasions he won prizes donated by Ross Loughlin for accuracy in shooting.

Sutherland, only seasoned professional of the trio, who came to Hawks from the Portland, Ore., team with a reputation as the "bad man" of the Northwestern League, did not assert much of his aggressive spirit that made him one of the most sought-after players in minor league ranks last season.

Sutherland weighs only 155 pounds, hardly enough in the opinion of Loughlin to withstand the rigors of a National League season.

Fair Sex Boot Them Home in England

Ladies have even invaded the jockey room! Here is the finish of the race for the historic Newmarket Town Plate run at Newmarket, England, with Miss Peggy Thrale kicking Jimmy's pet over the line to win by a short head from Eastern Loveliness with Miss P. P. Monckton up. Every rider in the race was a woman. Miss Thrale is the daughter of a noted Epsom Downs trainer.

RUGBY NOTES

BY OBSERVER

The first game of the season was closely fought, and as usual, every player on both sides trying to justify their places on their respective teams.

The first try of the season was as neatly scored as any the most ardent Rugby fans could wish for. Gaunt, not usually noted for good ball handling, took his pass beautifully, and as a good wing three-quarter should always do, ran all out, and scored what proved to be the winning points of the game.

As to the merits of the two teams, Scottish and Bays, there is very little to choose between them. The future games should be close. The Scottish will undoubtedly have the advantage forward. For the present, the Bays will have an edge at three-quarter and halves. The full-backs are about equal in kicking, but I believe the Scottish fullback will have the edge in tackling in any very close game.

A fact that should be noticed in the first game is the Bays were at full strength throughout the game, while the Scottish, for a couple of minutes, had only thirteen men, and during the greater part of the fourteenth minute there was no marked superiority on part of the Bays, if any, on the day's play.

WASNT LUCKY I overheard a spectator say last Saturday that the try scored by Stuart was lucky. Personally I do not think so. The passing by the three-quarter Bays was well timed, and was as good as any scored by the New Zealanders last January.

There are many players who seem to have a great deal of luck, and I am not sure to deny that there is luck in Rugby football, though my conviction is that in this, as in connection with the numerous mistakes of referees, the law of averages works, and in the long run had luck is balanced by good luck, and the mistakes of referees which handicap and penalize teams are neutralized over a season, or certainly over a series of years, by the mistakes which favor and help.

I remember as a boy playing on a school fifteen age team, another school team, a noisy supporter of my team kept yelling at the referee, offside—offside! The captains of the two school teams stopped playing and walked over to the sidelines and informed the referee, supporter—and an official at that—that they would march off the field if he didn't shut up. This did the trick. On the way back to the game the referee smilingly said thank you. I have often thought that if some of the captains tried this once or twice, it would prevent similar occurrences here. Give the referees a chance.

The referees can improve their vision by running a little faster. I believe most of the troubles here are more often due to their being too far behind the play, rather than any wilful errors in judgment. Getting back to this luck of the game, it is quite a different thing from that which so many people call luck, when repeatedly a player seems by accident to be in the way of scoring chances. If we analyze the circumstances which lead up to and determine these apparently luck experiences, we shall find individual qualities of mind, heart and skill which explain in a large measure why the lucky man scores when the so-called unlucky man fails.

The first quality is the power of anticipation. In some rare cases this power seems to be instinctive; but I doubt if it is, in any case, the anticipation which is founded upon knowledge of the game and of individual opponents is more reliable than the uncertain inspiration which leads a man to do a thing he knows not why.

PASSING MOVEMENT Take the case of those forwards who seem to be up more often than their fellows to finish off a passing movement by their backs, or to take a pass from a half or three-quarter who has broken through.

In nine cases out of ten he is in the right place because he has studied the play of his comrade and knows that, given a certain disposition of the defending players, the man with the ball is sure to break right or left on an oblique line which he can intercept if he starts at once and follows up in a straight line.

Then there are fast players who back up and use all their speed to get on the outside of their man to whom they have passed, ready to take a pass and carry on the attack, perhaps with defence beaten; and there are forwards and halves who are great scorers at short range because they start falling four or five yards from the line, deep, low, and steadily dive over the line. Very often, if a man keeps upright and approaches the line, especially if he is a wing sprinting for the corner, he is knocked into touch, or over the corner flag.

NEED CLEVERNESS These are simple things, but they lead to tries which otherwise could not be scored. Players need speed, cleverness and determination in attacks which are developed on orthodox lines; but they need also the crowning gift of judgment, founded on knowledge, knowledge of their opponents, knowledge of how and why attacks succeed.

The game to be played today, Navy vs. Bays, should be very interesting. The Navy boys always have a good team, and no doubt, will give the public a chance to see whether the games this season are going to be closely contested.

The Bays have the advantage of having played one air game and should have a slight edge.

The Scottish will be playing a friendly game at Duncan this week. The intermediate section promises to be very interesting. The Fifth Regiment and Wanderers will be keenly contested—he would be a wise man who can pick the winner. If the Fifth play right on top of the Wanderers, they have a good chance to win. If they play an open game, the Wanderers can win. Take your choice.

The Scottish, with one game played, should give the Navy, an unknown team, a good game. Until they meet it is difficult to know just how good the latter are. Take your choice.

There should be good attendances at today's games.

WINNERS AT UPLANDS Posting a card of 96-18-78, Mr. H. B. Combe topped the "A" class held in the monthly medal competition held yesterday at the Uplands Golf Club. A deadlock resulted in "B" class with Miss A. Talbot and Miss Robinson finishing with scores of 105-28-77 and 96-19-77, respectively.

This scene in the ring of the New York Hippodrome marks the end of the scheduled ten-round bout in which Harry Balsamo, the blond belting brakeman, made Eric Seelig, of Germany, his seventeenth knockout victim. The fight ended in 1 minute and 4 seconds of the first session, after Seelig had hit the canvas three times and was obviously unable to continue. The moment after he had dropped for the third time supplied the setting for this picture.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Stock Prices at New York Mart Stage Late Rally

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP).—Although far from unanimous, the stock market today polled a recovery vote for favored oil, utilities and specialties.

Inspiration for the selected comeback, which put a number of issues up fractions to two or more points, was derived from bright earnings statements and cheering dividend declarations.

Transfers totaled 1,515,760 shares, compared with 1,974,340 yesterday. Renewed interest in oil followed the boost in Mid-Continent's disbursement to stockholders.

Expectations were also voiced of generous extras from other prominent petroleum companies before the end of 1936.

Support came into the bond market, stemming earlier drifting movement.

Rails, utilities and low-yield loans closed with fractional setbacks dominant.

Foreigns were irregular.

THE TUTTS... By Crawford Young

CHEERING SECTION By GUYAS WILLIAMS

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

PUTTING IT IN BLACK AND WHITE

The necessity for reducing oral arrangements to writing was recognized quite early in the march of time.

Evidence of this procedure dates back to ancient days in the shape of all manner of contracts, agreements, promises to pay, deeds and other instruments of record setting forth mutual assumptions and obligations.

It was this custom which in the sixteenth century came to be described as putting an understanding in black and white. The allusion, of course, was black for the ink and white for the paper.

One of the earliest recorded appearances of the expression is in the work, "Every Man in His Humor," by Ben Jonson, iv, 11, published in 1598.

Use of Auditorium In School Granted For Physical Study

Free use of the Lamson School auditorium two nights a week throughout the winter was granted by the Esquimalt School Board Thursday night to the Provincial Department of Education, which plans to organize physical and recreational programmes for youths over school age. The classes will be free to residents of the municipality.

Average attendance for September at the Esquimalt High School was 96.4 per cent and 95 per cent at Lamson Street School.

Accounts totaling $1,448 for the month and salaries amounting to $2,784 were ordered paid.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY: A LETTER OF ENCOURAGEMENT FOR NERVOUS WIFE—"FATHER OF FOUR" IS TOLD THAT WE CANNOT LOVE THOSE WHOM WE FEAR—A BRIDE GETS OUT OF STEP WITH THE WORLD—LOVE AND RELIGIOUS DIFFERENCES

We've come to another round-up. And so—what?

G.W.H.: Thanks for your encouraging and helpful letter to the nervous wife. You've placed your finger on the real cause of her nerves. She's so determined to be "just right" that she has become self-centred and unhappy. You've found comfort, even joy, in doing little things for others and in watching the bread come back upon the water. So could the nervous wife if she used your recipe.

For "Father of Four": I was one of those sensitive children brought up in fear, a dreadful fear of my father. Now I am grown, I have no love for him. His use of the rod killed the love I might have had for him. When fear is born, hatred and resentment follow. We cannot love those whom we fear. In maturity, children brought up in fear suffer inferiority complexes and so are handicapped for life—a daughter.

Bride: Either you have been unfortunate in your choice of women friends or you lack the proper capacity for friendship. There comes a time in the life of every one of us when we get out of step with the world and jump to the conclusion that everyone except ourselves is marching with two left feet. You've struck one of these mischievous intervals. My dear Bride, and it is up to you to drive yourself out of it. Pay no attention to what you think are your girl friends' efforts to arouse your envy. Ride along with them and tell them you're glad they're having such a bang-up time. And mean what you say. Dislike begins dislike. Be kind and sympathetic, natural and helpful, and you'll find a treasure-trove of friendship no matter where you are.

Puzzled: The difference in religious creed between yourself and the young man should not interfere with your love for one another so long as each of you respects the other's conviction. The two of you should meet on a plane of love for your God and the manner of your service to Him should be your own business. God never expected His children on this earth to become embittered or embittered over the form of their devotion. He asks only that you love and serve Him according to the dictates of your conscience. You and the young man should establish your love on mutual respect for and faith in one another. Love and marriage were designed by God and in its highest form it is a religion unto itself with God as its Master. Do not allow others, even your own parents, to turn the worship of God into an enemy camp.

Worried Girl: If you love the young man, why not devote your time and thought to him? And if you love him, why should you be asking about going out with other fellows on the four nights a week he is at work and cannot spare you? Love isn't a merry-go-round. Those of us who love and prove the sincerity of our affection by service are happy over what we can do for the one, not what the one can do for us. If you're in preparing yourself for a domestic future, you had better let the young workman go and look for merry-go-rounds.

Anxious: If the young man with the broken leg asks for your visit it isn't only a pleasure but it is kind for you to go to his home. Honest kindness and unselfish interest are never improper.
